swim a mile
without making a turn

Many people prefer swimming as exercise over most other forms. The only problem is that the availability of lap pools or bodies of water large enough and calm enough to swim in is rare. It is just not practical to put a lap pool in your backyard. With Swim Spa, you are getting the usefulness of a never ending lap pool with the size of a spa.

Homeowners are beginning to discover what doctors and therapists have long known that water's weightlessness makes exercise easier on the body. The latest wave in indoor pools is swim spas and fitness pools sized for the home.

Swim Spa, offering slightly different products that attract both fitness buffs who want to swim against a current and people who require home water therapy

With the advances in science and health education, ideas such as Swim Spa is giving people opportunities to exercise in the safest manner.

Swim Spa offers the maximum of comfort in the minimum of space. With reduced water volume, the Swim Spa has a capacity for use greater than a traditional swimming pool, whilst also being more user-friendly.

The Swim Spa is a combination swimming pool and therapy spa, with the added benefit of an adjustable current, which allows swimming in place. A complete work out can be achieved with low-impact aerobic exercise, from lap swimming (no-flip turns needed) to running in place.

Sixteen hydrotherapy jets arranged along the molded-in seating provide soothing, beneficial massage and relaxation. Water temperature can be adjusted from cool to a relaxing warm, making the Swim Spa ideal for year round use, even outdoors. It is small enough to fit conveniently in a deck or small backyard.

Swim Spa is one-piece fiberglass construction and completed system. Though that means little assembly is required, it also limits where it can be installed.

1. Swim Spa is revolutionizing the swimming pool and spa industry. Great for relaxation, health, fitness, general pain relief, and entertainment.
2. Swim Spa takes less than 15 minutes a week to assure sparkling clean water.
3. The perfect home exercise option for people of all ages and interests.
4. Compact, Quick and Easy to install.
